Kneeling in the End Zone: Spiritual Lessons From the World of Sports

Basketball great Bill Russell said that sports are one of the "Big Four." "Only four kinds of events—politics, religion, the arts, and sports—have been able to draw consistently large crowds of paying customers throughout history," he said. "That must mean something." It must. People care about sports. They talk about Saturday's games during Sunday school and cut out of worship early so that they won't miss Sunday's kickoff. This workshop doesn't condone skipping out on worship, but it does use sports as a lens through which to look at the Christian faith. It uses sports as a metaphor, drawing parallels between scriptural stories and memorable tales from the field or court, and looks at those transcendent moments in sports history that reveal larger truths about life.

Can't We All Get Along?: Conflict among Christians

“As long as there have been people there have been conflicts. And since Christians are people, too, it is no surprise that even disciples of Jesus Christ butt heads, argue, and become divided. Come take a look at some of the roots of conflict and some biblically-anchored ways of getting our heads together.”

The Pilgrim's Way: *Thinking about pilgrimage as individuals, communities, and ministries.

We are a pilgrim people because we have hearts that will never rest; never be satisfied; never be complete until we find the God who is at the core of all we desire and seek through this life. In addition, this “life is a journey that we must travel with a deep consciousness of God”. (From the first letter of Peter, Message translation).

Been thinking about how cool it might be to make a pilgrimage overseas to some “holy” places? Been thinking about how cool it might be to take a group of young people or adults on that pilgrimage? How a mission trip, lock-in, retreat, ski-trip, or even a Sunday night gathering might be more like a pilgrimage than an event? On the other hand, how there must be a better way to live than racing through the day at 80 mph? Then come for some conversation about The Pilgrim's Way, an approach to mission trips, retreats, weekly gatherings, and life as well as those intentional journeys that have traditionally been called pilgrimage. Everyone is a pilgrim therefore anyone can make and lead a pilgrimage no matter what its shape.

Session I: God's Plan – The Ultimate Sex Life

Session II: Under Pressure – Why is it so hard to say “no?”

The goal of this course is to help young people understand that their sexuality is a gift from God. Our Creator has a plan for each person He created. He has planned out the sum of our days before even one of them came to be. In Jeremiah 29:11, His word says: “For I know the plans I have for you,” declares the Lord, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.” Our purpose is to lead young people to the truth that God's plan includes our sexuality, and to help them come to the conclusion on their own that saving sex for marriage is the best choice for them spiritually, emotionally, and physically.
